

General Conference Trivia

Before General Conference

1. Give each member of your family (or class) a stack of these cards to have during General Conference. (The larger cards for pictures are for your little ones who can't write yet)
2. Have each person write a set of questions that they come up with while watching General Conference
3. Encourage them to take notes, and tell them that the game will be "open notes"

Top play the game:

1. Either split up into 2 teams, or decide to play individually
2. Gather everyone's questions, shuffle them together and put in the center of the table
3. Put a bowl of candy in the middle of the table (choose a candy your family will love, and if you want you can set it in the table with a "no touch – must be earned during trivia game" sign during General Conference as a visual reminder that they better listen!)
4. Take turns (either each team) or going around in a circle, asking each other the questions. If they get it right, they get to take a piece of candy out, if they get it wrong, they put the candy back in the pot, and the question goes back to the bottom of the pile.
5. Game is over when the cards are gone and then you can pig out on candy!
