

Family is More Important than a Broken Bow

Heavenly Father has assigned us to a great variety of stations to strengthen and, when needed, to lead travelers to safety. Our most important and powerful assignments are in the family.

(President Henry B. Eyring, April 2010 General Conference)

	NEPHI - Type Attitude		Laman/Lemuel - Type Attitude
	What Nephi would do	How that would help with family unity	What Laman and Lemuel would do	How that would hurt family unity
Your brother is serving a mission and depends on financial support from the family.
Your sister has a disability and needs special help
Family night at your house is something no one looks forward to, including you.
Your mother is away from home during the day, and your younger brothers and sisters often argue when they come home from school.
Your father followed the prophet's counsel and planted a garden this spring.
