

You've been Blessed!

*The Christmas lights shine brightly, for all the passers-by.
It reminds us of that Holy night when angels filled the sky.*

They shared good news with shepherds, as stars twinkled up above, a message so sweet and simple to fill the world with love.

*They said his name is Jesus and a King to all he'd be.
The shepherds quickly left in haste, to bow on bended knee.*

*In an instant when they saw Him, they knew He was the one.
He was their Lord and Master, and to the world, He had come.*

In reverence, shepherds hung their heads, too humbled to say a word, and as the starlight graced their face, in their hearts they heard:

*"I come to you a lowly babe descending under all so that mankind can live again, and overcome the fall.
There is no gift to bring me, no riches or worldly fame,
to show you truly love me, serve others in my name."*
